Winter 2016

Teaching and Engagement Department Quarterly Report

Winter 2016

January 1 - March 23, 2016

I. Major Accomplishments

A. Strategic Milestones

- In response to the Student Speak Out and issues of inclusion and representation raised by students of color several TED librarians developed a proposal to establish a President’s Collection creating a visible, vibrant, browsable reading collection, display and space in OSU Libraries. This proposal was developed in consultation and partnership with several library departments. Goal 1.5 - Create a forum that welcomes and engages all communities
- Jane Nichols developed and submitted a successful proposal to the OSU Curriculum Council to offer LIB 410/510, which will allow OSU faculty to offer credit-bearing internships. Goal 2.2a - Build an OSU Libraries and Press experiential learning and internship program for both graduate and undergraduate students.
- Stefanie Buck and Maura Valentino submitted a successful Honors College course proposal. Goal 2.1b - Collaborate with ...the University Honors College... to offer courses that have a positive impact on student success.
- Stefanie Buck submitted an excellent Learning Innovation Grant to build a new service/instruction space on the library main floor. Goal 1.3.d - Create and maintain learning spaces relevant to users’ needs.
- Kelly McElroy and Anne-Marie Deitering launched #BeaversRead; Kelly clarified library display workflows with Circulation stafff and with Patrick Layton. Goal 1.5.c - Develop programming to promote reading on the OSU campus.

B. Major Accomplishments

- Hannah Gascho Rempel created an ALA e-course with Maribeth Slebodnik from the University of Arizona. The course will run through all of April.
- Jane Nichols had a presentation submitted and accepted to the Library Publishing Forum with Korey Jackson on interns and library publishing
- Laurie Bridges completed her second semester of Spanish: SPAN 102
